Today's sale in Christchurch saw some mixed results. The highlight must be the fine wools with early season market indication being very positive ~ especially 26 micron and finer ~ with some spirited bidding from buyers. On reviewing the XBD prices on a year on year basis ~ it looks like these would be 50-60 cpkg ahead of same sale last year. We believe there was some hesitancy in the strong wool market mostly due to tariffs imposed by US govt on eastern countries. Oddments still remain hot property especially the good colour 2/S PCS and CRT.

Next Sale is in the North Island on the 24th July 2025 with 6,500 bales rostered.
